Deputy Mayor of the Main-Kinzig-Kreis District and Chairwoman of the Administrative Board of the Local Employment Centre
(KGA)

Dear fellow citizens,

Regardless of whether you have already been based in our region over many generations or have only recently adopted the area as your new home, the Main-Kinzig-Kreis district of Germany is cosmopolitan and hospitable. We welcome everyone with open arms and we want to make settling into our region as easy as possible, especially for refugees.

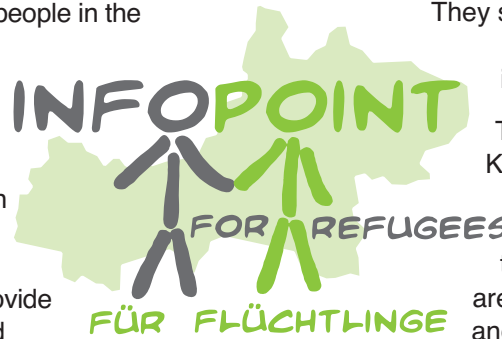

The legal parameters and different responsibilities with regard to immigration, asylum and social law are not always easy to understand, not even for administration experts - especially when it comes to determining the conditions under which people in the region are allowed to work.

We have therefore set up Info-Points at three different locations, which all refugees and, of course, all integration contacts and other individuals involved in working with immigrants and refugees, are more than welcome to visit. If possible, our Info-Points immediately provide you with answers or arrange a direct and binding appointment with the office or authority responsible for your matter.

This new service forms part of a larger context of measures, campaigns and initiatives. The Mainz-Kinzig-Kreis district of Germany is cosmopolitan and hospitable. Be it by arranging emergency accommodation at short notice, offering the voluntary commitment of our local citizens or even by establishing solidarity with various authorities and doing away with the red tape – we welcome refugees to our region with open arms!

Kind regards,

Susanne Simmler

Dear new residents and interested readers,

Welcome to the Main-Kinzig-Kreis district. Are you looking for work or accompanying someone who is trying to find a job? This flyer is designed to provide you with an initial helping hand.

Entering into employment is a positive and important step. There is no better way to get involved in life in Germany and to enable yourself and your family to lead an independent life and become integrated in this country. A career and employment are much more than just a means of earning your keep and securing your existence.

They show that a person has settled into German society and wants to get involved and help to shape this society.

The labour market in the Main-Kinzig-Kreis district welcomes individuals who have professional qualifications and are willing to further develop their skills and abilities. Qualified staff are in demand in the region but finding and starting a job is not always easy.

Potential employees not only have to deal with the labour market, which involves quite specific requirements, but also a number of legal guidelines and bureaucratic hurdles.

We have set up the Info-Points in order to support your integration into the world of employment. The Info-Points provide you with access to the most important institutions in one single location. We are your contacts – please make the most of our services and get in touch with us.

We are here to help you. Contact us and let us accompany you on your journey.
